MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, saying he does "not seek to intimidate the press," has extended his criticism of the nation's news media to some daily newspapers.

Finding particular fault with the New York Times and the Washington Post, Agnew Thursday night charged there is a "growing monopolization of the voices of public opinion on which we all depend—for our knowledge and for the basis of our views."

The vice president's attack in a speech to the Alabama Chamber of Commerce came exactly one week after he leveled sharp criticism against the nation's television networks for their handling of news.

Opposes Censorship

In answer to critics who asserted he was attempting to muzzle newsmen, the vice president told his audience:

"I am opposed to censorship of television or the press in any form. I don't care whether the censorship is imposed by government or whether it results from management in the choice and the presentation of the news by a little fraternity having similar social and political views. I am against, repeat am against, censorship in all forms."

However, Agnew said, this does not mean the news media should be free of criticism.

Comments Unfair?

"When they go beyond fair comment and criticism they will be called upon to defend their statements and their positions just as we must defend ours," he said.

Recess Called In Arms Talks

HELSINKI (AP) — After two U.S.-Soviet meetings in Helsinki, there is cautious optimism among the Americans that the talks will lead to full-scale negotiations to curb the nuclear arms race.

At the Soviet Union's request, the secret strategic arms limitation talks, dubbed SALT, adjourned until Monday after Thursday's 100-minute session.

Authoritative conference sources said the shortness of the meetings and the time between them are evidence of the seriousness of the two sides rather than of delaying action.

With national security at issue, the envoys were said to be proceeding carefully and reporting home fully for further instructions—a time-consuming process.

While the U.S. envoys had expected the next meeting to be held Saturday, they did not object to the weekend recess. The Americans have favored some interval between meetings to allow time for preparation, while the Soviets had indicated a preference for daily sessions.

The Helsinki round is expected to last several weeks as the two superpowers probe each others' positions for what might be negotiated later in full-scale bargaining on slowing their costly nuclear missile competition.

By agreement, spokesmen for both sides have refused to make any report on progress of the talks so far except to give the time of the meetings.

House Passes Battered Bill On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's first foreign aid bill has squeaked through the House, trimmed to $2.19 billion but not battered.

The action was packed into a nearly eight-hour session which ended Thursday night with a tense series of three roll call votes.

Enough Republicans rallied behind Nixon in the early fighting to ward off deeper cuts proposed by some of their own members. The President had asked for $2.6 billion for foreign aid.

When the day was over, the bill was sent to the Senate on a 176-163 vote. In addition to the spending ceiling for this almost half-gone fiscal year it also contains a nearly identical authorization for 1971.

But the final outcome appeared in doubt for a time as a bloc of liberal Democrats delayed their voting in protest to cuts in development loans and a proposal to give Nationalist China $54.5 million for planes.

On final passage, 106 Democrats and 70 Republicans joined forces to vote for the bill which was opposed by 86 Democrats and 77 Republicans.

But on a 176-169 vote on the planes for Formosa, proposed by Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., there were 92 Republicans and 84 Democrats in favor of the issue and 111 Democrats and 58 Republicans opposed.

The addition of the planes and extra cut on development loans left the bill in almost the same state it was after the House committee cut it $441 million from the Nixon request.

Cyclamate Ban Eased By Finch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stepping back from what was widely interpreted as a near total ban on cyclamates, the government now says the artificial sweetener may be used in clearly labeled foods and as a sugar substitute in liquid or tablet form.

Contents On Label

Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, said Thursday night the sale of foods and sugar substitutes containing the sweetener will be allowed as long as the label shows the cyclamate content in an average serving.

Levin Foresees Long Struggle On School Bill

ROCHESTER (AP) — Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin says lawmakers have "a long way to go" before agreement is reached on any type of education reform program.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Avon Democratic Club, Levin noted current bipartisan discussions on the reform package.

"Since the opening of this special session, Democrats have considered such discussions essential to progress, primarily because it was obvious from the beginning that most, if not all, of the governor's proposals were not going to pass the Legislature in the form in which they were introduced."

Levin said some legislators have said the "governor's go-it-alone approach was a blind alley."

Now, he said, with discussions in progress, it must be realized that "legislative work on basic education reform has barely begun."

"There has been no basic education reform so far," he said.

The State Senate has passed a more than $1 billion state school aid bill for 1970-71 and tax measures designed to pay that cost.

But, Levin said, "there has been no change in our inequitable taxing system. There has been no reform in our method of distributing funds to local districts to reduce the differences from district to district."

Levin, a Berkeley Democrat, called on all leaders participating in the discussion to "consult with and involve all four caucuses... (or) our new effort will fail."

"A realistic assessment of where we are shows we have a long way to go," he said.

Disabled Veteran Can't Find Job

DETROIT (AP) — Alvin Williams had his right arm blown off by a mortar shell in Vietnam in March, 1968.

After more than a year of job hunting in Detroit, Williams said he has not been able to find a job. Finally, after being rejected as a janitor for the Post Office, Williams broke down Thursday and picked up food stamps, his first welfare assistance.

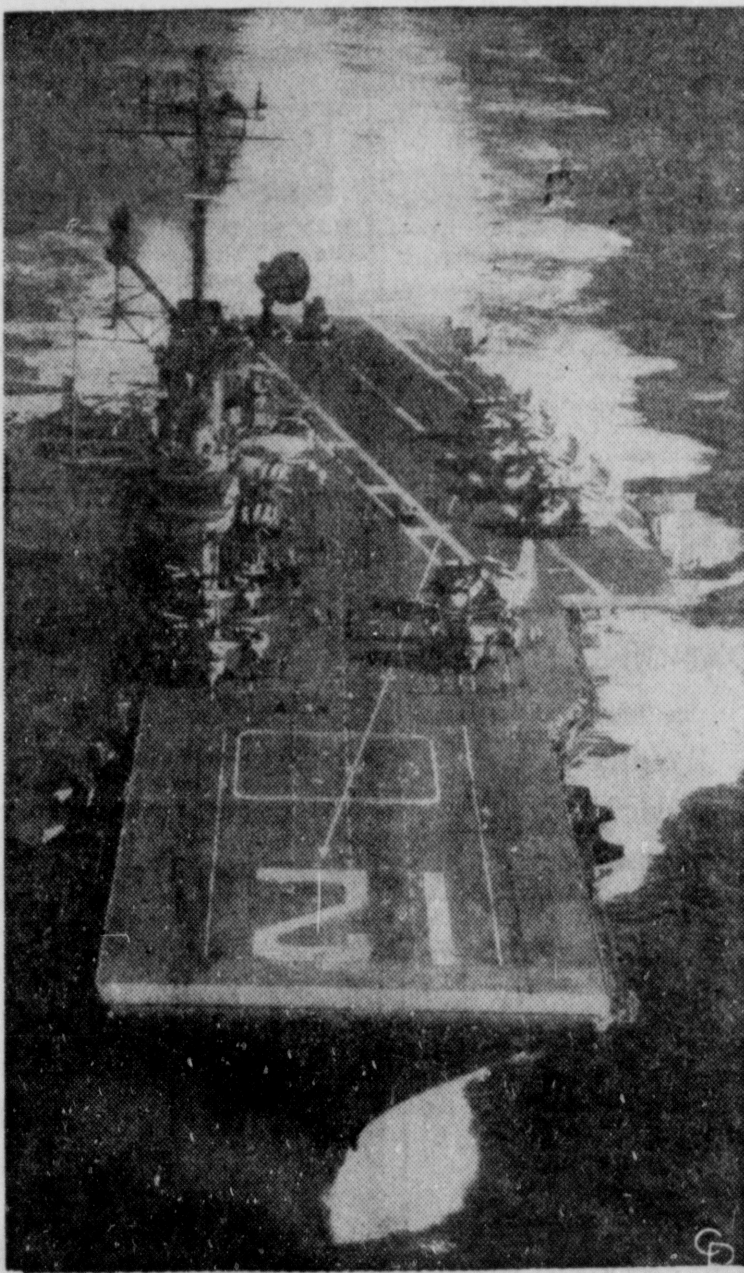

"I figured if the Post Office won't hire me to sweep floors, nobody will," the decorated veteran said.

Williams has been supporting his wife and two young children on a $290 monthly disability pension from the Army. He has repeatedly been rejected for jobs because of the missing arm.

"They keep telling me, 'You can't do it. You can't do it,'" he said. "If I start to believe I can't do anything, I'd be better off if I just laid down and died."

Williams received three Purple Hearts during his four months in Vietnam. He was drafted into the Army in 1966.

The first kill of an 11-point doe was reported by Paul Caldwell of Springport, who got his in northwest Jackson County.

Clipper Trip Ending; Splashdown Monday

Pictures Taken Of Possible New Landing Sites

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Only hours before starting the long trip home, Apollo 12's orbiting moon voyager today snapped hundreds of pictures of future astronaut landing sites in the rugged lunar highlands.

Crater Photographed

The photographic targets included the shallow crater Fra Mauro, nestled among mountain peaks, which will be the target for Apollo 13 in March.

Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean awoke shortly after midnight EST to conduct several hours of lunar surface photography from the Yankee Clipper command ship.

At 3:49 p.m. today they planned to trigger Clipper's big bell-shaped engine to blast themselves out of moon orbit to start the three-day quarter-mile journey back to their home planet. They splash down in the Pacific at 3:57 p.m. Monday, ending man's second expedition to the lunar surface.

Astronauts Busy

There was little conversation with the ground as the astronauts kept busy operating six cameras and orienting the spaceship to get the proper angle and lighting conditions.

Bean took a few moments to give his impression of the moon's back side, which cannot be seen from earth.

Change Course

"The back side is a lot more worn and smooth," he said. "The front side's got a lot more contrast and a lot more sharp features to look at. I personally like to look at the front side. On the back side it seems there's no flat area at all, just big craters and little craters, no real sharp contrasts between flat and high mountains."

At 2:23 a.m., they fired their engine to change course slightly to bring the spaceship in line for better photographic angles.

Conrad asked if "that hot engine of ours didn't by any chance buy us enough gas to come home a day early, did it?"

If enough extra fuel remained, Yankee Clipper could shorten its trip home by boosting its speed to follow a path that would be several hours shorter.

Mission Control calculated the fuel reserves and said there was not enough margin for a fast trip home.

"Okay, we weren't sweating it," Conrad said. "We just knew that if we had a better engine or something there might be a chance."

21-Day Quarantine

"It's one less day in the LRL," quipped Bean, referring to the Lunar Receiving Laboratory in Houston where they will be quarantined to make certain they have brought back no moon germs. The 21-day quarantine started Thursday when Conrad and Bean finished their second excursion on the moon's surface.

Limit On DDT Use Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, after moving to eliminate all but emergency uses of DDT by the end of 1970, is planning steps to restrict the widespread application of other persistent pesticides.

In accelerating efforts to halt the use of DDT, Hardin said Thursday he intends to:

—Cancel in 30 days the registration of DDT for use against pests in homes, gardens, shade trees, tobacco fields and aquatic areas.

—Outlaw by Dec. 30, 1970, all uses of DDT except for emergency control of diseases and massive crop pest infestations.

The secretary said he would begin taking action in March against other persistent pesticides "using the same criteria and procedures being applied to DDT."

Hardin's plan to review uses of other hard pesticides apparently is an effort to encourage the use of substitute chemicals or alternative methods of treatment for DDT instead of relying on one of its long-lived cousins.

The plan to cancel the registration of DDT for use around the home and in tobacco fields would prohibit interstate shipment or sale of some 14 million pounds of the long-lived insecticide—about 35 per cent of the total DDT used in this country.

Hardin's action would not prohibit a person from using stocks of DDT presently in his possession.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's decision to resign as chief negotiator in the Vietnam peace talks is "cause for hope that the negotiations in Paris will now move into more substantive areas," Sen. Philip A. Hart, D. Mich. said Thursday.

"Nothing in the substantive area (of negotiations) has taken place to date—at least in the public talks," Hart said. He attended a Philadelphia Bar Association library dedication and was told by newsmen of Lodge's resignation.

President Nixon announced Lodge's decision Thursday to step down as head of the United States delegation in Paris. Lodge had been appointed by Nixon in January.

Hart, Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee chairman, said the announcement came as a complete surprise. He said he is hopeful for more meaningful negotiations.

Zero Hour Near For Haynsworth

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's prestige was on the line as the Senate neared a vote today on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth.

The Republican President nominated the 57-year-old South Carolinian three months ago and stood steadfast despite a controversy that split the Senate and the ranks of his own party.

Both sides were jittery on the eve of the showdown on the outcome hanging on the decision of a dozen senators who refused to commit themselves publicly in advance. Haynsworth had a shaky 45-43 edge in committed votes going into the closing arguments today according to an Associated Press survey.

Pressure was on the Republican senators to support their leader, but a number of them had announced in advance that they would go against the confirmation. One of the earliest was GOP Whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

The last time the Senate rejected a Supreme Court nominee was in 1930 when another Republican president, Herbert Hoover, named Judge John J. Parker to the tribunal. The vote was 41-39.

Last year, in the face of a threatened filibuster by opponents, former President Lyndon B. Johnson withdrew his nomination to elevate Abe Fortas

Guilty Of Lesser Charge:

Two Young Men To Be Sentenced For Use Of Marijuana

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Two young men pleaded guilty before District Court Judge Dean Shipman today to a charge of use of marijuana, after Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp amended the charge against them—reducing it from a felony to a misdemeanor.

The action this morning concluded what had been a preliminary hearing on a charge of control and possession of marijuana against Stanley W. Hojnacki, 20, and Edward Scull, 19, both of Oneonta, N. Y.

The felony would have, upon conviction, carried a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and trial would have been conducted in Circuit Court.

Lesser Penalty

After hour-long conferences between Judge Shipman, Prosecutor Beauchamp and defense attorney Ralph Peterson, the prosecutor moved for the amended charge at 10 a. m. today; the youths through their counsel pleaded guilty; and Judge Shipman said that he will confer today with parents of the youths and expects to pronounce sentence next week. The parents of both boys were present in the courtroom.

Prosecutor Beauchamp in moving for the amended charge said that any guilt on the part of the defendants was technical in nature.

The charge of unlawful use of marijuana, a misdemeanor, carries a maximum penalty of $2,000 fine, one year in prison, or both.

The prosecutor said that the amended charge was arrived at only after extensive review of the facts in the case and that on the evidence available it would be improper to proceed under the felony charge.

Brodersen Next

A third youth involved, John Carl Brodersen of Norway, Mich., will report in District Court here at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 26, for preliminary hearing on a narcotics charge.

They were arrested for having control or possession of marijuana.

The defense questioned Robitaille at length on whether Hojnacki and Scull had been informed of their constitutional rights and whether they had not been detained by police before their arrest. Robitaille said he could not recall the exact language but that he had informed them of their rights and that they had both consented to the search by signing the form.

Sgt. Ray Jensen testified that he had asked the youths to stay until Robitaille returned from the hospital, and that they were not under arrest at that time.

Robitaille in response to Prosecutor's Beauchamp's questions said that he could identify Hojnacki and Scull in the courtroom, although "their appearance is not the same" as when they were arrested.

Found In Toilet

Scull had shaved his beard, they both had their hair cut, they were neatly dressed in the courtroom, and "they look clean," said Robitaille.

He testified that Scull and Hojnacki had rented the lower floor of the building at 714 Ludington, lived in an apartment at the rear, and planned to open a book and record shop. The officers, including Capt. Lundin and Patrolman Johnson, described the search that uncovered the substances containing marijuana.

Johnson told of seeing — through the open door — movements of Hojnacki and Scull while he was outside assisting with Brodersen. He testified that shortly thereafter he saw Hojnacki leave the bathroom in the apartment, that he entered and saw that the toilet had been flushed, and that some material in plastic or cellophane was floating there.

Capt. Lundin testified that in the search he removed the package from the toilet bowl and with other materials was sent to the crime detection laboratory in Lansing for analysis.

Schools Begin Opinion Study

Everyone has opinions about schools . . . opinions about report cards, homework, discipline and curriculum.

The Escanaba Area Board of Education is looking for everyone's opinions on these and many other areas of school functions in their survey which is being circulated throughout the school district beginning this week. From lunch programs to taxes, from teachers to school costs, the survey is constructed to cover a wide range of people's concerns with their public schools.

About 6,000 copies will be distributed in the school district area. All elementary and junior high school children will be given copies to take home on Nov. 24. They will be asked to return them to the school before Thanksgiving vacation.

Many organizations and businesses will be contacted to have their employees fill out the survey in the coming weeks. This method of circulation is being used to establish a better return at less cost than a mailing to all residents, school officials said.

Many volunteer workers as well as school personnel will help in taking the survey to organizations and businesses. If your group is not contacted and you would like to fill out the survey sheet call the school administration office, 786-5411, and ask for copies.

Survey copies also will be available at all school offices and anyone may pick up copies there. Past experience has shown that most senior high students do not bring home materials, so no complete distribution to them will be made. Copies will be available at the office on request.

Teacher Quits Big Bay Post

GARDEN—A woman who has taught for 30 years in the Garden and later the consolidated Big Bay de Noc school district has resigned as the strike of teachers in the district continued today.

Mrs. Robert (Lenore) Tatrow, an English teacher in the high school, submitted her resignation to Carl VanRemortel, president of the board of education.

"I should like to have my resignation become effective as soon as possible."

Mrs. Tatrow objected to distribution of a Board of Education newsletter which listed the present and projected salaries of every teacher in the district. She said she believes public knowledge of salary scales is essential, but that publication of individual wage levels is unethical.

The "school news letter" dated November, 1969, included a list of all the teachers in the district with present salary, board offered salary and the teacher's alleged salary request.

Teachers of the district refused to report to classes Monday in a contract dispute with the Board of Education. A meeting of the Education Association and Board of Education Wednesday night failed to resolve the problem. About 600 children are affected in the Garden, Nahma and Cooks areas.

Hearing Here Is Postponed

Bay de Noc Community College today announced cancellation of the Legislative Committee hearing for the Upper Peninsula, scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Monday at Bay College on community colleges, their structure, financing and future needs.

Rep. George F. Montgomery (D-Detroit), Chairman of the nine member Special Study Committee, informed Dr. Richard Rinehart, President of Bay College, in a telegram today that some members of the subcommittee have been called by Gov. William Milliken to serve Monday on a joint House Senate negotiating team on education reform.

The meeting will be rescheduled in December, said Montgomery.

Scout Leaders Plan Events

Red Buck District Boy Scout leaders scheduled a district leaders Christmas party for Thursday, Dec. 11, at St. Stephens Episcopal church in Escanaba and began planning for district a Klondike Derby and a first aid show at the November Roundtable Thursday at First Methodist Church.

Details of the events will be announced later.

Cub Scouts of the district will participate in a "Goodwill project" this month and in December, it was announced. Each Cub Scout will be asked to share one toy or book with a child less fortunate than himself. The toys and books will be presented to patients in the children's unit of Newberry State Hospital in time for Christmas.

By sharing a special toy, rather than donating a new one, Cub Scouts learn to appreciate the value of service to others by giving of themselves, officials said.

The flag ceremony at the meeting was presented by Troop 444 of Escanaba and Troop 400 of Manistique presented a demonstration of cold weather scouting including a section of recognition and treatment of frostbite.

Don Mattson, district commissioner, lead the discussion.

This course is sponsored and funded under the federal government's Manpower Development and Training Act. Interested persons should contact the Employment Security Commission office at 305 Ludington St., Escanaba.

2 Newspapers Feel Sting Of Agnew 'Whip'

nently on their front pages.

"Yet the next morning the New York Times, which considers itself America's paper of record, did not carry a word. Why? Why?"

"If a theology student in Iowa should get up at a PTA luncheon in Sioux City and attack the President's Vietnam policy, my guess is that you would probably find it reported somewhere in the next morning's issue of the New York Times. But when 300 congressmen endorse the President's Vietnam policy, the next morning it is apparently not considered news fit to print."

Statements Questioned

Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, answered in a statement, which read in part:

"Some of Mr. Agnew's statements are inaccurate." Besides carrying the story of congressional endorsement in its later editions, Sulzberger said the Times gave the story considerable attention to subsequent developments.

In referring to the criticism that followed his speech last week, Agnew said: "I am not asking any immunity from criticism. That is the lot of the man in politics; we would have it no other way in this democratic society."

Freedom Unrestricted

"But my political and journalistic adversaries sometimes seem to be asking something more—that I circumscribe my rhetorical freedom, while they place no restrictions on theirs."

"I do not seek to intimidate the press, the networks or anyone else from speaking out. But the time for blind acceptance of their opinions is past. And the time for naive belief in their neutrality is gone."

Are millions changing to electric heat just to save money?

Could be. Because owning and operating economies of electric heating systems have been improving steadily. But cost isn't the ONLY reason people are switching to electric heat. Think of its cleanliness. Its gentle comfort. And its carefree modernity. And more. Electric heat offers the widest choice of heating systems you can get, some with exclusive features. And because electric systems are flameless, they keep maintenance down to an absolute minimum.

That's a major reason why hundreds of thousands of commercial buildings have electric heat. Efficiency is still another reason. Because electric heat is nearly 100% efficient, while flame fuels are far less efficient, even at laboratory best. Shouldn't you have electric heat? Get the facts. Plan ahead for continued economies five, ten, twenty years from now.

Spectacular Gift

If you drive from here to Minneapolis via U.S. 8, you will be impressed—if not awed—when you cross the St. Croix River that slices between Wisconsin and Minnesota. When you turn south and proceed toward Minneapolis up the steep grade from Taylor's Falls on the Minnesota side, be sure to look back (if you're not the driver). What you see must be one of the most spectacular views in all of the Midwest — the St. Croix rushing between rugged canyon walls. Not surprisingly, a park — Interstate Park — spans the river between Taylor's Falls and St. Croix Falls on the Wisconsin side. It is heavily used by weekend visitors from the Twin Cities and by tourists from throughout the land.

Now, the Northern States Power Co., which owns 29,000 acres along the St. Croix, has announced that it plans to donate 25,000 of those acres to the public as part of a plan to develop a massive linear park and strip forest stretching from near Gordon, Wis., on the St. Croix flowage and Lake Namekagon south to St. Croix Falls. This would involve approximately 100 river miles on the St. Croix and 98 river miles on the Namekagon. The power company proposes to donate 7,000 acres to the federal government; 13,000 acres to the State of Minnesota and 5,000 acres to the State of Wisconsin. The 4,000 acres the power company retains would be developed into leisure, recreation and commercial support facilities consistent with a plan developed by the St. Croix Task Force.

The task force was established in June 1968 under the auspices of the power company. The plan developed by the task force outlines a system to preserve the Upper St. Croix River and its major tributaries, principally the Namekagon, as relatively free-flowing rivers in near primitive condition. Four months after establishment of the task force, Congress passed the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act, which designated the Upper St. Croix and the Namekagon as one of eight initial wild river systems to be preserved and developed in this country.

It was logging that made possible the preservation of much of the lower river shores in one ownership. The loggers needed access and flowage rights to utilize the rivers and they bought and held large tracts until NSP acquired ownership as a basis for expanding hydro-electric facilities.

Why was Northern States Power, which has held title to the St. Croix River Valley lands for nearly 50 years, so willing to turn these lands over to public ownership and to work toward preservation of the river region as a recreation area? Earl Ewald, chairman of the board of NSP, gave an explanation.

"NSP's stewardship of its St. Croix land holdings has become increasingly difficult," he said. "Growing urban population with attendant need for recreational opportunities tends to increase the problems of wise land use and regulation. The holding costs of annual taxes and retention of a non-productive asset are undesirable from the corporate viewpoint. Economic and market analyses indicated that selling the land for private use in small parcels served neither NSP nor community needs."

Since this long strip of land is destined to come under public ownership, it is encouraging to note that the development plan calls for (1) a zone concept of utilization and (2) an optimum use concept. Both of these concepts have been incorporated in the development plan that was drafted for the Sylvania Tract in the Ottawa National Forest in the Upper Peninsula and both represent a sound approach to recreational land management.

Under the zone concept, the St. Croix lands would be divided into three zones — a maximum preservation zone covering all land paralleling the river, a limited development zone and a transition zone (generally of those lands which are necessary to provide support development for the users of the first two land tiers).

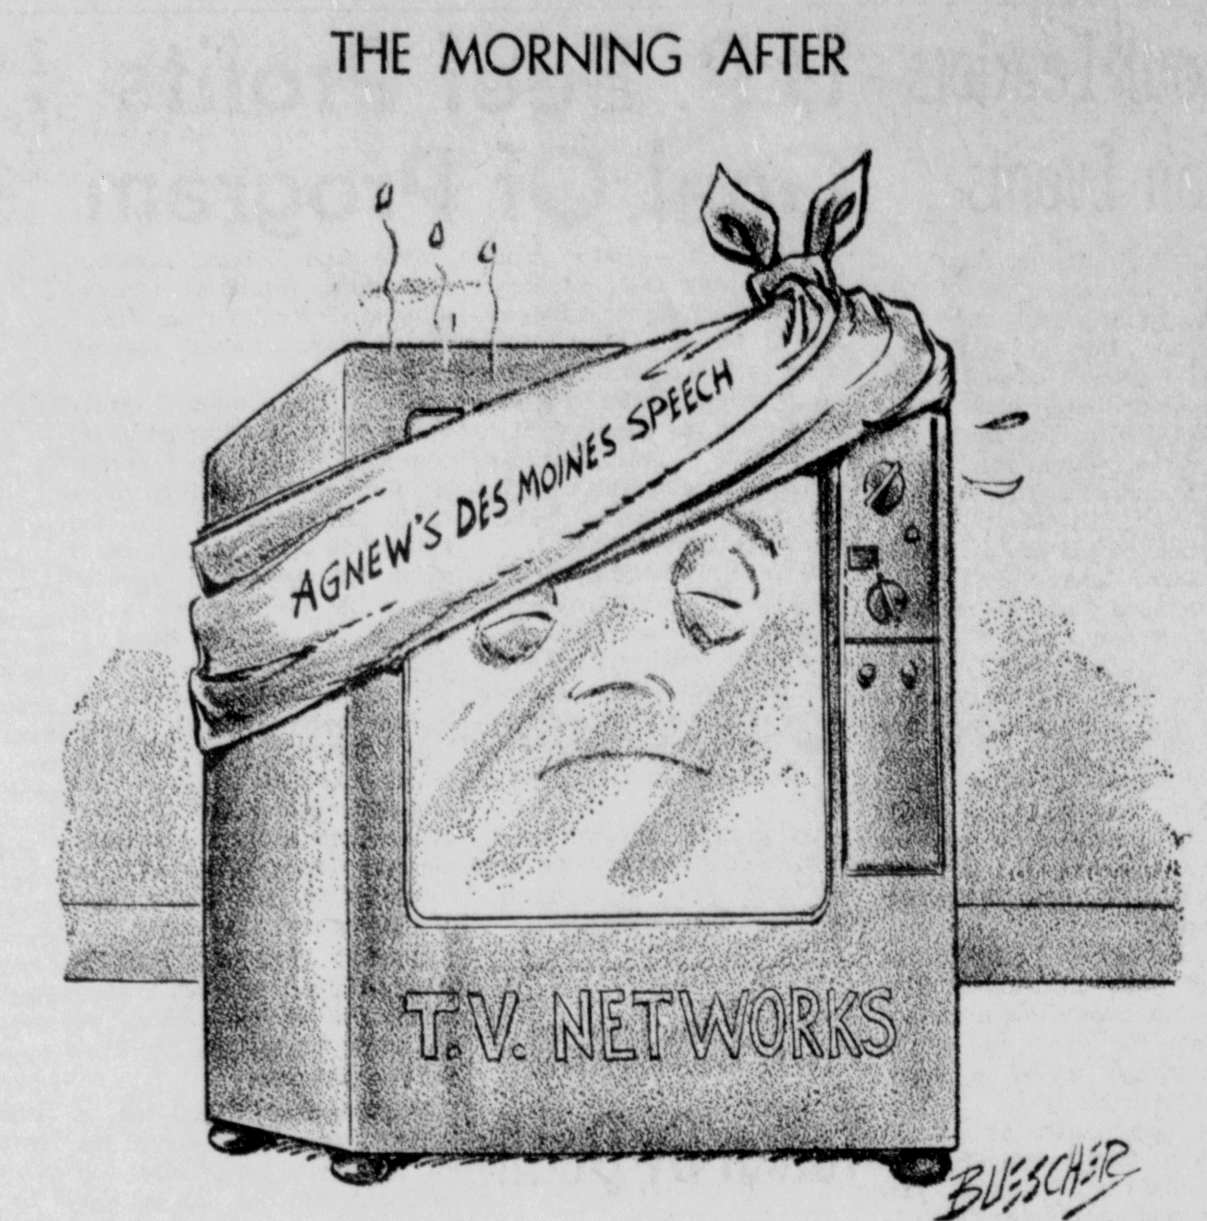

The optimum use concept calls for developing appropriate support facilities, such as lodging, food supplies, etc., so as to offer a wide recreation base.

"Today we are privileged to transfer this wilderness to the people of this nation," Ewald commented. "It will be theirs to guard as jealously and to use as wisely as those who preserved it for them." A grateful public should heed those words.

Peninsula Potpourri

Five Iron County townships and the City of Crystal Falls have filed a formal appeal with the Michigan Tax Commission regarding the levying of 2.03 mills in county hospital bond retirement taxes on the county's tax rolls. They ask a hearing on the basis of what they believe to be irregular and improper procedure. The Iron County Board of Supervisors in October voted 10-5 to spread the bond millage, "if legal," following the reading of a letter from the hospital authority board chairman. Earlier in the same meeting, the supervisors had approved a resolution authorizing the tax spread for Iron County which did not include the bond millage. Since that meeting, the minutes of the session have been altered to include a "revised" tax resolution which, in contrast to that which was actually passed on Oct. 13, calls for the 2.03 mills for hospital bond retirement purposes. The appeal to the State Tax Commission by the six assessing officers protests the irregularities in the certification procedure and maintains that, since the bonds have not yet been sold, no obligation exists to spread the millage.

Copper sold for more than $1 a pound when amateur prospector Lanny Perkola of Copper City accepted a $1,100 check for a 1,091-pound chunk of float copper he found late the past summer on the farm owned by his brother-in-law, Elmer Haltunen. Perkola was "toying" with an inexpensive metal detector when he located the mass several inches below the surface and only several hundred feet from Haltunen's home. The check was presented him by Peter Baudino of Calumet, an intermediary for the buyer, Joseph Lizzadro of the Lizzadro Museum of the Lapidary Art in Elmhurst, Ill.

Agnew Serving As Tribune Of People

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The heads of the big TV networks may not realize it, but they have a bear by the tail. The bear is Vice President Spiro Agnew. He annoyed the network heads when, in his Des Moines speech before a group of Midwest Republicans, he assailed the TV commentators who, with one or two notable exceptions such as Howard K. Smith, went on the air immediately following President Nixon's Vietnam speech with some of the surliest criticism that I, for one, have ever heard. CBS's Dr. Frank Stanton, a normally perceptive man, called the Agnew speech an "unprecedented attempt by the Vice President of the United States to intimidate a news medium which depends for its existence upon government licenses." Nonsense, Frank; Agnew was just having his say on something that has been bothering a lot of people.

The truth of the matter is that Agnew was speaking for a big group, maybe even a majority group, that has felt itself gagged by what they consider, possibly wrongly, to be a media conspiracy to present only the so-called liberal side of contemporary arguments.

The Vice President had noticed that many of the letters and telegrams and phone calls that poured into the White House on the morning after the Nixon Vietnam speech came from people who were passionately angered by the TV commentary. So he decided to let the country know about it.

The people had no means of getting on the air themselves; the fact that TV is, as the Vice President says, "a monopoly sanctioned and licensed by government" prevented any quick retort by the disgruntled consumers. Agnew thinks the TV customers like his own remarks; his office tells me that out of 500 calls within the first hour, 450 were in the Vice President's favor.

So Spiro Agnew was acting in the ancient Roman capacity of the "tribunus plebis," or Tribune of the People.

Mackinac Bridge Crews To Merge

LANSING (AP) — Plans for a merger of maintenance forces at the Mackinac Bridge have been announced by the State Highway Department and the Mackinac Bridge Commission.

The bridge currently has an 18-man regular crew and seven seasonal employees. None will be out of a job because of the merger, the highway department said.

Orlando Doyle, chief engineer for the bridge authority, will continue to supervise bridge maintenance.

Bridge workers who have become experts in underwater survey and repair projects also will be available for work on other state bridges.

Both highway department and bridge personnel will occupy the maintenance garage at St. Ignace and will work together on equipment maintenance and repair.

The merger will enable economies and bring the bridge working forces into a closer relationship, the highway department and bridge authority spokesmen said.

Come to think of it, there ought to be one such person close to the seats of power in any Administration. Maybe, without quite realizing what he has accomplished, Spiro Agnew has at last ended the 180 year search for something useful and dignified to do with the office of the Vice Presidency.

Being a Tribune of the People is something more than being an Ombudsman, which is what the Swedes call their official who is chosen to listen to the people's complaints about their government. A "tribunus plebis" sees to it that the people get their voices heard whenever any powerful group, whether in government or society, attempts to monopolize the means of communication.

What the network heads do not seem to realize is that they are the victims of a time lag. In the palmy days of the late Ed Murrow, the U. S. was predominantly in favor of the philosophy we loosely call "liberalism." For better or worse, most of us breathed the same ideological atmosphere.

A big university such as Harvard could hire a collectivistic liberal economics professor such as John Kenneth Galbraith and pay no attention to somebody who, in the interest of fairness, suggested that Galbraith should be balanced on the faculty by a classical liberal such as Ludwig von Mises.

Since the early 1960s, however, the country has been changing; there is a balance in society that has not yet been recognized either by the universities or in the offices of the TV networks. We now need a better balance in all our educational and communication institutions.

Far from trying to "intimidate" the networks, Spiro Agnew was just trying to tip them off to something they might have learned a few weeks ago if they had read Edith Efron's remarkably perceptive article in TV Guide which took note of the popular belief that the network producers are "biased."

They tried to kill Agnew by laughing at him. But Agnew is not just an individual; he is a conduit for voices that have been struggling for a long time to be heard. These voices will no longer be denied—and this makes Spiro Agnew, in his new position of Tribune of the People, a man of growing stature and power.

greater than that of many already prosperous nations.

The catalyst needed for this development is capital, and Indonesia is carefully courting foreign investments. A bit wary at first, American and Japanese businessmen in increasing number are investing in the nation.

Although businessmen don't always think first of such things as the balance of power, that factor is an important one in the rebuilding of Indonesia.

When the nation began its campaign to attract foreign investments several years ago, the minister of foreign affairs, Adam Malik, reminded businessmen that their investments would bring not only a financial return but a political one also.

"The stability of the whole region may very well depend upon the growth and stability of Indonesia," he said. "A stable and prosperous Southeast Asia could well preserve the balance of power in East Asia in a way conducive to a stable peace in that part of the world."

Such words, have more than passing importance for American businessmen who find their nation involved in seeking a solution, military or otherwise, to problems that affect other Southeast Asian areas.

Hubbard Chides Sen. Griffin On Haynsworth Vote

DEARBORN (AP)—Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard has chided Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., for his stand against the confirmation of Judge Clement Haynsworth to the U.S. Supreme Court.

"You are young, smart and clever," Hubbard wrote in a letter mailed Thursday to Griffin and released to Detroit newsmen. "But an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness."

"The wild-eyed, busy-haired liberals and the leftist slob who oppose Mr. Nixon's choice could care less what happens to your political hide," Hubbard wrote. "There isn't one vote in the whole damn left-wing for Griffin."

The affirmative side of the question was taken by the Misses Geraldine Finley, Ethel Olson and Techia Pinoczek.

The debate was one of the most interesting ever held. Three boys and two girls of the senior class, in conjunction with the pastor of the church and his assistant, acted as judges. Preparation for the affair had taken up about one month and it was conceded to be a narrow choice in making the award, the element of debating ability only being taken into consideration.

1. North cannot have the K-Q-J of spades, since he would surely have led the king instead of the six in such a case. Therefore South has got to have a spade honor, and by winning the first trick you can insure that the spades will be blocked if they are divided 5-2.

The type of hand you should prepare against is one where North has something like this:

♠ K Q x x x
♥ K x x
♦ x x
♣ x x x

If you ducked the first spade, South would return a spade and you would eventually go down one. But if you take the first spade, you make nine tricks by cashing the ace of hearts and K-Q of clubs, leading the jack of clubs to dummy's ace, and then playing the queen of hearts.

When North wins with the king he finds that his spades cannot be run. Whatever he returns, your three of clubs is an entry to dummy's six and you run the hearts to score a total of nine tricks.

2. You have very little chance of making the contract unless the diamonds are divided 4-4, so you must plan from the start to establish the nine of diamonds as the twelfth trick.

Accordingly, you trump the heart lead in dummy, ruff a diamond, trump the jack of hearts, ruff another diamond, then trump the ace of hearts and ruff the third round of diamonds.

Draw trumps, enter dummy with a club, and cash the ace of diamonds, discarding a club. If both opponents follow to the ace of diamonds, cash the nine and discard another club. You can then congratulate yourself on making what was really a poor slam contract, for you were a 2 to 1 underdog when play started.

Column 'Cornered' By Concerned Parent

Dear Ann Landers: How far will the editors and publishers of our newspaper let you go before they decide to throw your column out? We have three teen-agers and I am tired of breaking my neck trying to get the paper first to see if your column is fit reading for our children.

You recently described, in detail, the symptoms of venereal diseases. Some papers print you in the evening. Ours happens to be a morning paper. I can tell you that your V.D. column did not go very well with breakfast. Furthermore, it raised many embarrassing questions which our children would not have thought about for several years.

You are not a doctor, you are not a lawyer, you are not a clergyman — in fact, you are nothing. I am sending a copy of this letter to the editor of our paper, and serving notice that I shall cancel our subscription if you write another column which is offensive to decent people. — Mother of Teen-agers

Dear Mother: Thank you for your letter. I applaud you for sending a copy to the editor. It is important that the editors know, firsthand, how his subscribers feel about the paper.

Below is a letter from another subscriber — on the same subject:

Dear Ann Landers: Congratulations on your column succinctly outlining the signs and dangers of the two commonest venereal diseases. That column was probably the most worthwhile thing I have read in any newspaper in years.

Whatever argument I have had with your advice at other times, I cannot help championing your bold stand on this vitally important subject. I hope my letter will counter — in part, at least — the letters of outrage you will doubtless receive from those who prefer to pretend the problem doesn't exist. — Bruce D. — Chicago

Dear Bruce: Thanks for the letter of support. You were there when I needed you.

Ann Landers: Every time you print a letter from a woman who admits there is something wrong with her, my husband hands me the column and says, "Your letter appeared today." I usually laugh it off because it's gotten to be a family joke, but I didn't laugh much when he handed me the letter from the woman who needed a face-lifting job.

I'm several years older than my husband, but the age difference never bothered me until recently. My figure is good, my hair is smartly styled, and I dress well. But this past year my chin has begun to sag and my neck is getting a little crepey. I find myself putting my hand to my face when I speak — to cover the signs of age. I'm seriously considering plastic surgery. Is it expensive?

Change Policy, Not Negotiator, Viet Cong Say

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong says the Nixon administration must change its policy, not its man at the Paris peace talks, if it wants a peace agreement.
"Changing the negotiator is not enough—the Nixon administration must also change its policy," Viet Cong spokesman Duong Dinh Thao told a news conference after the announcement that Henry Cabot Lodge, the chief U.S. negotiator at the peace talks, and his chief deputy, New York attorney Lawrence E. Walsh, had resigned.
Lodge "carries out the directives he receives from President Nixon," Thao observed to a questioner. "We have no opinion regarding Mr. Lodge personally."
The resignations were announced by the White House Thursday, and White House and State Department sources in Washington indicated President Nixon has not decided on a successor. Meanwhile, the delegation will be headed by Philip C. Habib, 49-year-old career diplomat who has been the delegation's No. 3 man under both Lodge and his predecessor, W. Averell Harriman.
Lodge, who is 67, said in his letter of resignation to the President that he wanted to leave for personal reasons.

Rep. John D. Payant (R-Kingsford) today called for the appointment of an Upper Peninsula person to fill the current vacancy on the State Board of Education. Payant asked for consideration of someone from the U. P. in a letter to Governor Milliken.
"We are making strides in gaining more representation for the Upper Peninsula, and I feel that here is an excellent opportunity to continue this trend," Payant said. "The U. P. is, after all, a part of Michigan and we do have very complex problems in education, and I feel that a member on the State Board of Education is not only right, but necessary in the best interests of our school children," Payant said.
Payant said he had no intention of suggesting any particular people.
"We have many qualified people who could be easily identified. All I am doing is asking for consideration of our needs for representation on the board," he said.

Cost Of Living Still Climbing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for cars and houses were major factors in a four-tenths of one per cent rise in living costs last month that continued the nation's sharpest inflation in some 20 years, the government said today.
However, Americans got a break at the grocery store in October when food prices declined six-tenths of one per cent, notably for meat and vegetables.

The over-all rise in living costs brought the Labor Department's consumer price index to 129.8. This means it cost $12.98 last month for every $10 worth of food, housing, clothing, transportation and medical care in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.
At the same time, the Bureau

With The Deer Hunters

The Daily Press welcomes news about hunters, events in camp, and who got deer. Phone deer hunting items to 786-1021.

William Schultz Jr. shot a 38 pound girl deer while hunting at Northland. He is very proud as this is his first deer.

John Gucky, a student at Bay de Noc College, shot a seven-point 150 pounder opening day.

Marvel Thoma of Soo Hill filled her license Wednesday when she gunned down a 125 pound doe while hunting out of the Lester Machia Camp near Vega.

Tom Forvilly, Rte. 1, Escanaba, is still looking for his buck, but the season won't be quite so costly this year. Forvilly dropped a female coyotte, on opening day at his camp near Watson and will collect a $20 bounty from the State of Michigan.

Hunting in the Faithorn area Monday, Mrs. Walter (Karen) Welch Jr., Bark River, filled her license with an 11 point, 185 pound buck.

John Dagenais, 611 S. 17th St., Escanaba, gunned down a 130 pound lady deer Thursday while hunting in the Danforth area. It was John's first deer in three years of hunting.

Ted Dellinger got an eight-point buck opening day while hunting near Cedar River. The deer weighed about 175 pounds.

Two Hunters Suffer Wounds

A youngster shot by his grandfather and a hunter shot by a youth who mistook him for a deer pushed the number of non-fatal gunfire accidents in the Upper Peninsula to 10 since the deer season opened Saturday.

Fourteen year old Keith Lehman of Southgate suffered a shattered bone in the right thigh when a rifle being unloaded by his grandfather, Charles Sizemore, 64, of Wyandotte accidentally discharged. The accident occurred at 12:30 p.m. Thursday in Ontonagon County.

Local conservation officers report that the legal deer kill is down this year compared to last. The illegal kill is also very light. "We've only uncovered two illegally killed deer so far this season," said Robert Timmer, district law supervisor for the Department of Natural Resources.

According to Timmer, 91 arrests have been made this season compared with 78 arrests through the same period last year. "A majority of the violations have been for improperly tagged deer, uncased and loaded guns in cars, and shining," he added.
Timmer also said the DNR has made several arrests of non-residents hunting on resident licenses.

When Santa comes to Escanaba for the pre-Christmas holidays he will have a suitable "home" in downtown Escanaba in the heart of the business district — thanks to the City.
Escanaba public works crews were busy today at the former Standard gas station at 11th and Ludington clearing away obstructions and hazards, and preparing to open the front of the station building as Santa's headquarters.
At the site and ready to be set up is a large Christmas tree, which will add to the attractiveness of the business center through the holidays.
The work is being directed by Ken Tushak, superintendent of the city's public works department.

Old TV Favorites Pop Up In Reruns

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — They have disappeared from the networks but many of the dear departed are living on local television stations.

The fate of series discarded by the networks is syndication and old favorites pop up in reruns all over the nation at all sorts of times—"Ben Casey" and "Batman" of recent memory as well as some that go back to TV's salad days, like "My Little Margie."

Some shows bounced by the networks continue making new programs. One is "Truth or Consequences," with host Bob Barker still persuading contestants to do all sorts of silly things for prizes.

Some old programs have been revived for syndication. This started with "What's My Line?" a couple of seasons back and it sold so well to independent stations that its producers gave some others a new life.

Now there is "Beat the Clock," another of those stunt shows that went on for years with the late Bud Collyer as host, and "To Tell the Truth," another of Collyer's shows.

Neither panel show seemed substantial enough to hold an evening audience, but were perhaps a bit brighter than many of the daytime shows currently filling network hours.

ABC has confirmed rumors that it will completely revamp "The Survivors" when the series moves to a new time period in January. George Hamilton will be the only star to remain with the series. Lana Turner and Kevin McCarthy will depart—how they are removed from the story has not yet been determined. For Ralph Bellamy's departure, it already has been suggested in the show that the character he plays does not have long to live.

Recommended tonight: "The File on Devlin," NBC, 8:30-10, international intrigue on "The Hall of Fame," with Judith Anderson and David McCallum; "Mirror, Mirror, Off the Wall," NBC, 10-11, original comedy with George C. Scott and Maureen Stapleton.

Tourism Up

LANSING (AP)—The number of visitors at nine travel information centers maintained by the State Highway Department has hit $35,000, topping the previous high of 768,000, set last year. Late holiday travelers are expected to push the total to 880,000 before the end of the year, the highway department said.

Baby Chicks In Limelight Here

"Super Chick" and "Pete" are the big attraction at the Central School these days. Visitors pop in and out of Room 313 to see the two little black chicks that Peter Derber's 7th and 8th grade science students hatched in an incubator.

The boys and girls bought 22 eggs and placed them in a steam incubator on Oct. 22. Twenty-one days later, on Nov. 12, the first chick hatched and was named "Cassius" and then re-named "Pete." The following day, Nov. 13, a second chick fought his way out of his shell and "Super Chick" was named.

The children decided on the unusual name because, immediately after "Super Chick" was taken from the incubator and placed in his cage, he scaled a portion of the wire in the cage and demonstrated his super power, the children said.

The name has proved very appropriate, the students assure visitors, since "Super Chick" is a fighter and pecks constantly at "Pete." The two are quite noisy and peep very loudly, to the children's delight. They exist on a daily diet of corn meal and water.

Their cage was made and donated by Derber's father-in-law, Steve Young.

A Story Hour will be held Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in the Lincoln School kindergarten. All children 3 years and older are invited to attend. The Story Hour culminates the celebration of National Children's Book Week and book marks illustrating the theme "Book Power" will be given to all children who attend.

Record UNICEF Collection Noted

A record total of $278.98 was collected Oct. 30 by school children who solicited for UNICEF, according to Rev. Ingmar Levin, president of the Ministerial Association which sponsored the appeal.

A major portion of the collection came from a door-to-door canvass by some sixty students who were assisted by Boy Scouts of Troops 400 and 402 and adult leaders.

Rev. William Brauer, Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian, was general director of the program. Mrs. Robert Johnson supervised the planning and also the party held for the student workers following the canvass.

The money will be used for relief work and will benefit children throughout the world.

Speaking for the Ministerial Association, Rev. Levin expressed thanks to the students and citizens for "this meaningful response to human need."

Here's The Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q.—Is a portable refreshment bar considered as furniture or part of the equipment in a house? We recently signed a contract on a house. When the real estate broker showed us around, he pointed out that the finished basement was an excellent place for entertaining guests.

Now that we have signed up, the owners tell us that the bar is not attached to the house and that they are taking it with them to their new place. We are very disappointed and wonder if there is anything we can do about it?

A.—This is a prime illustration of the necessity of placing in the contract a list of everything that goes with the house, including such things as appliances, window shades, rugs, etc. You do not say whether the bar was mentioned in the contract.

Did you have a lawyer handle the transaction? In any case, without knowing every detail of this particular situation, no one can advise you of what you can do, if anything, except an attorney.

Q.—How soon after caulking can I paint the compound?

A.—It's best to wait until the compound has set, usually two or three days. But your question implies that you haven't bought the material yet. The directions on the container will advise you about painting that particular brand.

Living Room In Two-Story

TWO-STORY COLONIAL with pleasing character of traditional house. The second chimney at the left side can be dispensed with if optional fireplace in the living room is not desired. The main chimney handles the living room fireplace.

By ANDY LANG

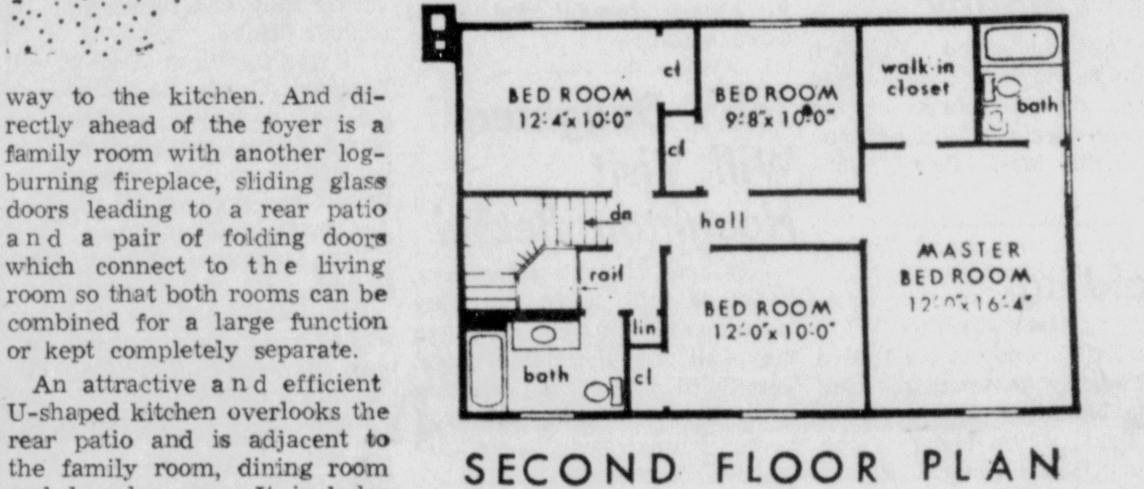

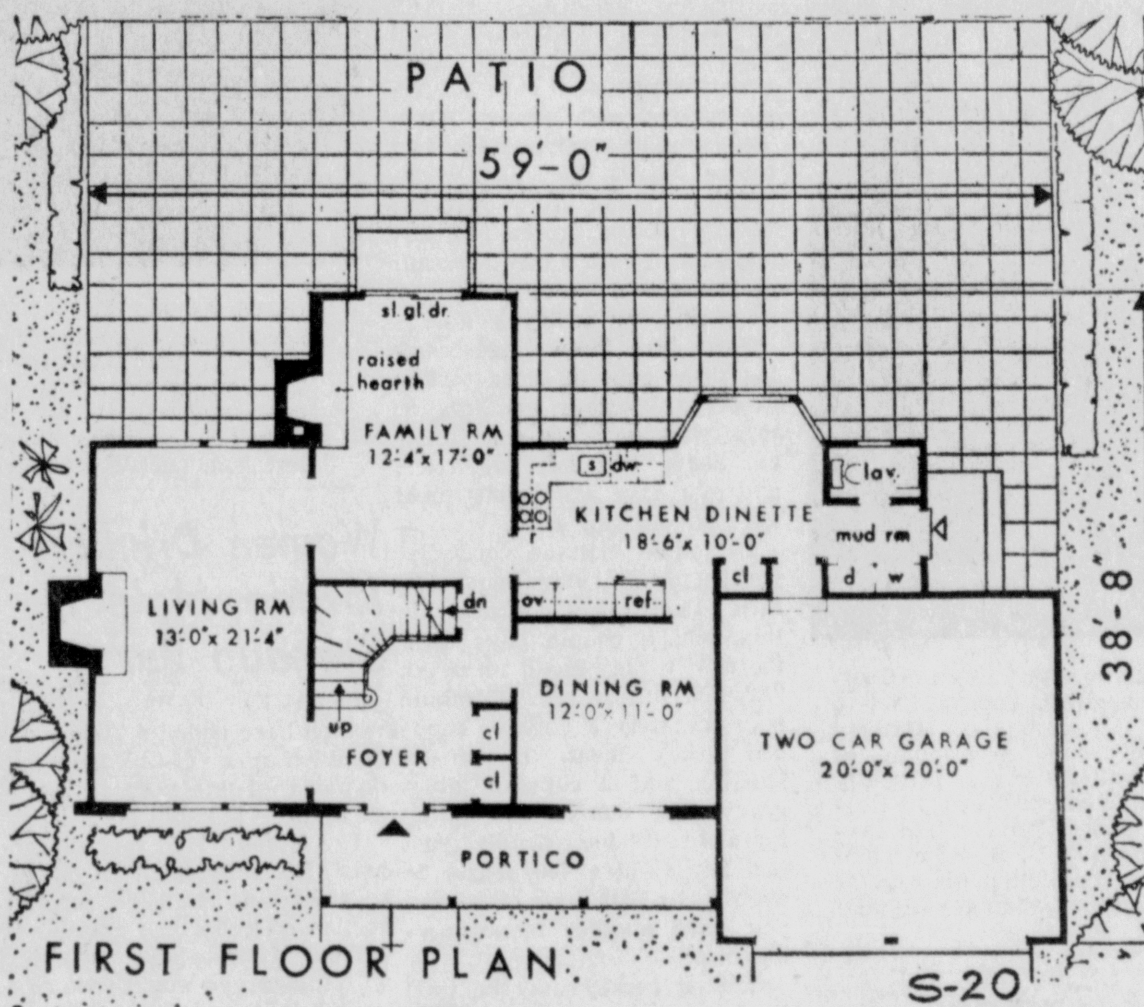

No more than a glance is necessary to establish that this four-bedroom house has the charm typical of a two-story Colonial.

Yet its finest feature is not its traditional cheery exterior, but the amount of livability — packed within its modest dimensions of 59' by 38' 8", figures that include the two-car garage.

In addition to all the traffic circulation advantages of a well-designed, modern home, architect Samuel Paul has included a number of distinguishing highlights, including a cathedral ceiling in the living room and an attractive circular-style staircase to the second floor.

The entrance to the home is via sheltered arched portico. The front door is flanked by a pair of narrow sidelights. Inside the front door is a roomy reception foyer, to the left of which is the living room and an optional fireplace. It is a "dead end" room so that no traffic can pass through it on the way to some other part of the house. Windows at the front and rear assure plenty of natural light and air.

To the right of the foyer is the dining room, with a door-

FLOOR PLANS: Large foyer, with two closets and a circular-style staircase, creates excellent first impression and serves as the starting point of a practical floor pattern leading directly to all downstairs room and to upstairs bedrooms.

way to the kitchen. And directly ahead of the foyer is a family room with another log-burning fireplace, sliding glass doors leading to a rear patio and a pair of folding doors which connect to the living room so that both rooms can be combined for a large function or kept completely separate.

An attractive and efficient U-shaped kitchen overlooks the rear patio and is adjacent to the family room, dining room and laundry area. It includes a bay-windowed dinette section and, in all, is 18' 6" long, which should make the woman of the house glow with pleasure at the prospect of handling her cooking and serving chores in a sizable area. The laundry-mud room includes a half-bath, a service door to the outside and entrance to the garage.

Upstairs, there are four bedrooms, two full baths and plenty of closet space. The master bedroom, located at the end of a hall, has an enormous walk-in closet and a private bath. The circular-style staircase terminates at a balcony with a railing overlooking the entrance foyer.

The two-car garage is covered by the same roof that stretches across the front portico. The exterior combines brick and shingles and has such Colonial features as an arched garage door jamb and double-hung windows flanked by wood shutters. A full basement provides an abundance of recreation and storage space without the necessity of going downstairs to handle the laundry.

Students Given Consultant Role On New Building

PONTIAC (AP) — Architects planning a new $14 million high school have called in some consultants who may know what they're talking about: the students.

Here's some of the things they would like to see in the new Pontiac Central High School: bigger mirrors in the bathrooms, a dance hall and a student smoking lounge.

"The students are enthusiastic," said Linda Heiserman, a representative of a Birmingham architectural firm. "It gave them a chance to relate to a school and to have a part in designing it."

The firm planning the school is O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Inc. The architects went to the students last month after the location and plans for the school became a controversial subject in the city.

"It's the first time we've ever gone right to the students for their advice," said Miss Heiserman. "But after all, they ought to know best."

Other suggestions included: larger student lockers, a bigger lunch room with separate dining tables, separate entrance and exit doors to bathrooms and lower mirrors.

The first commercial type-writer printed only capital letters.

S-20 STATISTICS

Design S-20 has a living room, dining room, family room, kitchen - dinette and foyer on the first floor with a total habitable area of 1085 square feet. Also at ground level are a laundry-mud room, lavatory and two-car garage. There are four bedrooms and two bathrooms upstairs, totaling 908 square feet. Over-all dimensions, which include the garage, a rear patio and a front portico, are 59' by 38' 8". There is a full basement.

DETROIT (AP)—Eddie Holland, Lamont Dozier and Brian Holland, song writers formerly with Motown Records, have formed a new record company, Invictus.

The first two artists to be released on singles are the Glass House and the New Play, featuring lead singer Ruth Copeland. Records by Freda Payne and the Chairman of the Board will follow.

The team of Holland-Dozier-Holland, while at Motown, wrote seven songs which became seven consecutive million-selling records for the Supremes.

Holiday Dinner Only Begins Turkey Economy

Many thrifty homemakers will buy Thanksgiving turkeys big enough for several meals, says Anita Dean, foods specialist at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

She says a 12-1/2 pound turkey can provide 5 to 6 meals for a family of four. Here's how.

The first meal is the holiday meal, complete with dressing, gravy and mashed potatoes. Afterward, remove the meat from the turkey bones.

In one package, freeze enough meat to make, "turkey club sandwiches." Then, wrap two packages of 3 cups of diced turkey, and freeze them. They can be used to make two future meals, like "turkey supreme," made by layering cooked noodles, broccoli, turkey, and sauced with a can of cream of mushroom soup; "turkey tetrazzini," or turkey salad.

Next, Mrs. Dean suggests using three cups of diced turkey to prepare turkey ala king or chop suey or sweet-sour turkey. Serve this hot over rice, and you have a delicious meal with an oriental twist.

If you've planned carefully, you should still have meat left, Mrs. Dean says. Refrigerate this, and a couple days after the first turkey meal, serve an, "English turkey pie." Combine approximately 3 cups of chopped turkey meat, 1 cup of stuffing and 2 cups of giblet gravy. Use this as the filling for a 9-to-10-inch double crust pie. Pop it in a 400 degree F. oven for a half hour or so, and you have another money-saving meal.

Cooked turkey may be held in frozen storage for about three months.

CUTE AS A BUTTON Tina Gracia of Denver is like any other vain young lady and spends considerable time in front of the mirror prettifying herself up. But Tina is special in that managing to comb her hair herself is something fate almost took away. The Denver youngster had her left arm severed at the shoulder in a train-car accident in April of 1965. The arm was reattached by surgeons at Colorado General Hospital and today four and half years later she has almost complete use of her left arm. (AP Wirephoto)

Women Drinkers Invade Male Standup Bar

CHICAGO (AP)—Seven women have ended a 71-year-old tradition at one of Chicago's last domains of male supremacy—an all-male standup bar.

The females held their beach-head Thursday night in Berghoff's bar—a small rectangular section of a German restaurant in the Loop—gladly sparring with males who would venture a verbal sally and return sullenly to their drinks.

"I was the first to walk in," Winifred Gandy said between sips of a house specialty, a prized 14-year-old bourbon. The bartender said I couldn't be served and then we all stood at the bar and took up space."

The manager ordered them served.

Miss Gandy and the six other women are members of the Chicago chapter of the National Organization of Women.

Mary Jean Collins-Robson, chapter president, said the women would have stayed if not served and then "we would have brought suit."

"It's terrible. Last of man's personal domains," said Ronald J. Rosenblatt of Chicago.

One dissenting male was Don Fowler, a Chicago attorney.

"The men against this are unsure of themselves and afraid of competition from women," he said.

Walter Rogner, the manager of the restaurant, said he doesn't see a loss of business.

"Men don't like it because it's their own, but," he shrugged, "we can't refuse it."

SUN LAMP FOR HAIR

MONTREAL (AP)—Experts say a daily two-minute session under an ultra-violet lamp will give new life to limp hair which has been abused with constant coloring, setting, teasing and spraying. Five or 10 minutes of direct sunlight on the head and scalp each day is also a good conditioner.

Ray Moran paced the team with a 226 game while Bob Moran had a 215, Jim Burnell 214, Bob Corriveau 209 and Lloyd Brown 202. Ray also had a 214 game for a 635 series and Jim bowled a 209 in addition to his 214.

Soo's Sundstrom Makes Class A All-State Team

By The Associated Press
Srot, Mutch, Knuff — they're not typographical errors, they're the names of three of the 11 players named to the 1969 Associated Press Class A All-State high school football team.

The team was chosen last week during a special meeting of sports writers from throughout Michigan. Not a single junior or sophomore was named to either the first or second teams, and all the first team seniors stand at least six-feet tall.

Selected were: ends Tom Brown of Royal Oak Kimball and Mike Hurd of Jackson Parkside; tackles Sam Esman of Utica and Ted Lewakowski of Grand Rapids Catholic Central; center Marc Sundstrom of Sault Ste. Marie; guards Jeff Jackel of Niles and Pat Knuff of Birmingham Brother Rice; quarterback Tom Slade of Saginaw; and running backs Bruce Remington of Bay City Central, Dave Srot of East Detroit and Craig Mutch of Detroit Thurston.

A solid B student, Brown is also a talented football player. He scored 58 points this year on eight touchdowns and five two-point conversions as finished fifth in the state with an 8-1 record. The 6-foot-2, 195 end played both ways and did the team's punting, averaging a fine 38.7 yards a kick.

Hurd is considered one of the finest ends ever to come out of the Jackson area. He is also considered probably the best defensive back in the South Central Conference, with one team's coach saying that Hurd is already a pro prospect. The 6-3, 175-pounder caught 27 passes this year for 784 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Massive tackle Esman is the biggest player among all the All-State selections in all classes this year. The 6-4, 260-pounder has been a regular for three years. Despite his size, Utica coach Bob Dillard says Esman has "quickness equal to most of our backs."

Lewakowski is the same height as Esman and just 10 pounds lighter at 250. Grand Rapids Catholic coach Jerry Sierracki says his team, which was second in the state with an 8-1 record, averaged 6.2 yards a carry through Lewakowski's position.

Named to the All-Great Lakes Conference team, Marc Sundstrom is the unanimous choice for Class A All-State center. He didn't have a bad snap all year and was an exceptional blocker with Sault Ste. Marie running considerably up the middle.

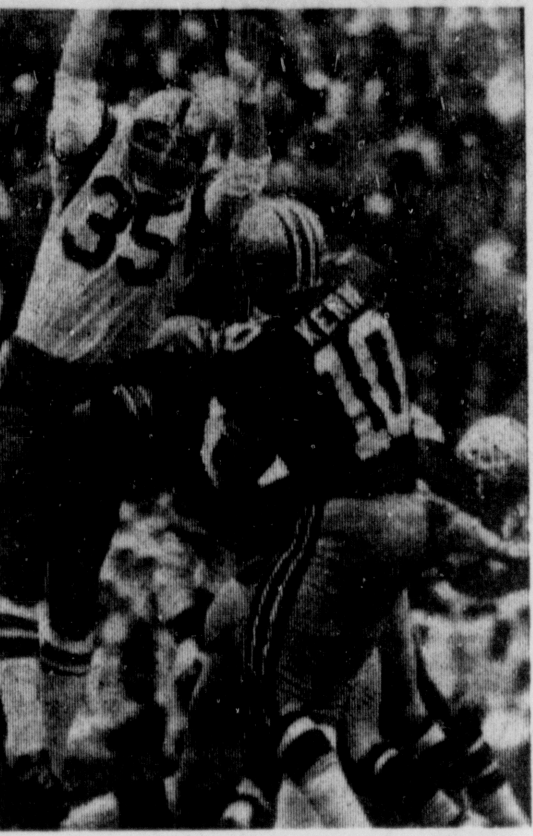

Niles, 9-0 finished 10th in the final AP poll and Jackel was a vital part of that season. He led the team in tackles with 78 as a middle linebacker, he intercepted eight passes and recovered two fumbles.

Knuff was one of the most outstanding players in Oakland County before being chosen All-State. Brother Rice plays in the Double-A Catholic league which is one of the toughest anywhere. Knuff, made 43 unassisted tackles this year.

Saginaw's Slade does it all. The six-foot, 190-pounder com-

Buckeye-Wolverine Clash Has Bowl Berth At Stake

CHICAGO (AP) — If all goes according to form Saturday, Ohio State will hold its second straight Big Ten football championship and remain the nation's unbeaten No. 1 — then watch Michigan or Purdue go to the Rose Bowl.

As the regular season closes, the Buckeyes expect their toughest game at Michigan but rank a 15-point favorite.

The Wolverines have a blend of running and passing and the Bucks won't be able to key on one man like they did Mike Phipps in crushing Purdue 42-14.

An upset by Michigan would leave it sharing the championship with Ohio State each with 6-1 records and send the Wolverines merrily on their way to Pasadena.

But a loss, plus a Purdue victory at Indiana in the Old Oaken Bucket shootout, would lock Michigan and the Boilermakers in second place with 5-2.

This would burden the athletic directors in voting the Big Ten's "most representative team" for the Rose Bowl trip—OSU being ineligible to return under the no-repeat rule.

They would have to consider the over-all season record. Purdue would be 8-2 and Michigan 7-3.

They could have to mull over the fact that Purdue's only other conference loss outside of that to OSU was to Michigan, 31-20.

And they would have to give much thought as to which team looked better, although in defeat, against Ohio State.

They also must take into their thinking which Big Ten team is equipped to make the better showing against the Pacific Eight opponent—Southern California or UCLA. They play for the bowl bid on the coast Saturday.

In 23 previous Rose Bowls, the Big Ten four times has sent a second-place, or non-championship, team with these results: 1948—Northwestern 20, California 14; 1955—Michigan State 17, UCLA 14; 1961—Minnesota 21, UCLA 3; 1966—Purdue 14, USC 13.

The directors' vote is expected to be announced Saturday night. If it is a 5-5 deadlock, the team last appearing will be eliminated. That would be Purdue.

Aside from the Michigan-OSU spectacular on TV, the season finale features four teams with 3-3 records seeking victories that would elevate them into the first division. They are Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northwestern.

Michigan State (1-5) is at Northwestern, which hasn't defeated the Spartans in their last 10 meetings and hasn't been in the first division since 1962. The game is a tossup.

Purdue is a 10-point favorite at Indiana as Phipps shoots for conference records in passing and total offense. He has 1,361 yards in the air and a 1,474 total. The record is 1,544 and 1,560 set by Iowa's Gary Snook in 1964.

Minnesota, unbeaten in November, is host to the Neil Graff aerial circus of Wisconsin. The Gophers are an eight point choice.

Iowa (2-4) is a 17-point choice

Michigan Makes Rose Bowl Plans

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Who's confident?

The University of Michigan is confident, that's who.

U-M announced it has started to make preliminary arrangements for a December trip to Pasadena by appointing a Michigan Rose Bowl Committee.

The Big Ten's representative to the Rose Bowl classic will be determined late Saturday. If U-M beats Ohio State it would definitely go. If not, and if Purdue beats Indiana, conference athletic directors will immediately vote on the representative.

Michigan beat Purdue 31-20 during the season and that could influence the decision.

A BUSY SEASON

DENVER (AP)—Harley Key, sports writer for The Rocky Mountain News, has good reason to remember the spring and summer of 1969. In the space of four days he attended graduation ceremonies for two daughters and a son. A week later one of the daughters was married. And two months earlier another daughter presented Key with his first grandchild.

Eskymos Hosting Redmen In Cage Feature Tonight

Believe it or not, sports fans, basketball season is now upon us and six area teams will swing into action this weekend, five of whom will be playing their first games of the season.

A game which will draw attention from all over the Upper Peninsula will be played at the Escanaba High School gym tonight between the Escanaba Eskymos and the Marquette Redmen, two of the three Class A schools in the U.P. Escanaba is the defending Class A champion in the peninsula and Marquette has been picked by many to take the crown away from the Eskymos this season.

Other games involving area teams this weekend include Soo at Manistique in a Great Lakes Conference tussle; Channing at Powers in a Skyline Conference clash and Bark River at Hermansville, all tonight, while Rapid River travels to Engadine Saturday night.

The Big Bay de Noc at Eben game, originally scheduled for tonight has been postponed because of the teacher strike at Big Bay de Noc High School. No other date has been set for the game.

Escanaba will go into tonight's game against Marquette with only two starters from last year's team among six veteran returnees and under a new head coach, Bob Thibault. Thibault replaced Bill Howes after Howes had retired at the end of the basketball season last year after serving six years as junior varsity coach, where his teams compiled a 75-26 record.

Tom Kangas, the leading scorer and rebounder on last year's Eskymo quint, and Bob Gauthier will be the only returning starters in the lineup. Kangas will team up with Gene Timmer at the forward spots, Gauthier will play guard with Mike Cousineau, the leading scorer on the 1968-69 Eskymo junior varsity, and Dennis O'Connell is slated to open at center.

Marquette is blessed with the addition of four regulars from last year's State Class D champion Bishop Baraga team, as well as three returning starters from last season's Redman outfit. Marquette scored a 63-55 victory over Munising in their opener last weekend and will be eager to take on the Eskymos tonight.

Marquette's starting lineup will have Bob Leanes and Fred Huffman at guards, Russ Oliver at center and Bob Schacht and Steve Hampton at the forwards. Schacht, the leading scorer in the Great Lakes Conference last year, is the only Marquette veteran in the starting lineup, while the other four come from Bishop Baraga.

Manistique fell victim to Ishpeming last weekend by a 79-60 score and will be eager to get in the victory column against the Soo tonight. The Emeralds have five lettermen back from last year's squad included in their roster of four seniors, five juniors and three sophomores.

Powers is the defending champion in the Skyline Conference and should get a pretty good indication of how they will do this season against Channing tonight. Channing has been rated by many to be a real threat to the Tigers this season despite the loss of Todd Lindemann, one of the top scorers in the U.P. last year.

John Butrymowicz, the new head coach at Bark River-Harris High School, will take his Broncos to Hermansville tonight in the season opener for both teams. Injuries to two players have dimmed Bark River's hopes this season but they still have some good shooters and will be up for this game tonight.

Hermansville has only two returning lettermen back from last year's squad, including John Dani, a junior who scored 172 points last season as a regular.

Rapid River hits the road for a game with Engadine Saturday night after upending DeTour 91-86 Tuesday night. Rapid River got a real team effort in the victory and some fine scoring from Dale Morin and Chuck Larsen, who had 24 and 27 points respectively.

Other games on the U.P. schedule this weekend find Ishpeming at Gwinn, Felch at National Mine, Rudyard at Engadine, Marenisco at Ironwood Catholic, Newberry at Negaunee, Crystal Falls at Even-Trount Creek, White Pine at Dollar Bay, Calumet at Baraga, Cedarville at Soo Loretto, DeTour at Pickford, Ontonagon at Wakefield, West Iron County at Bessemer, Hancock at Lake Linden, Pembine at Republic and Mercer at Watersmeet, all on Friday night, and Ironwood at Hancock on Saturday.

Munson Returns To Lion Roster

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions quarterback Bill Munson, who was reactivated Wednesday after recovering from a broken hand, says he isn't surprised that coach Joe Schmidt has decided to use Greg Landry as quarterback in Sunday's game at Green Bay.

"I wasn't surprised the way things have been going," Munson said Thursday. "Greg's been doing a fine job. It would be tough to take him out."

Since Landry replaced Munson five games ago, the second-year graduate of Massachusetts has led the Lions to four victories and just one loss.

"Nobody likes to sit," Munson said. But he added: "I'm going to back Greg up 100 per cent. I hope he wins them all."

The slide back to second-string is the second for Munson as the result of injury.

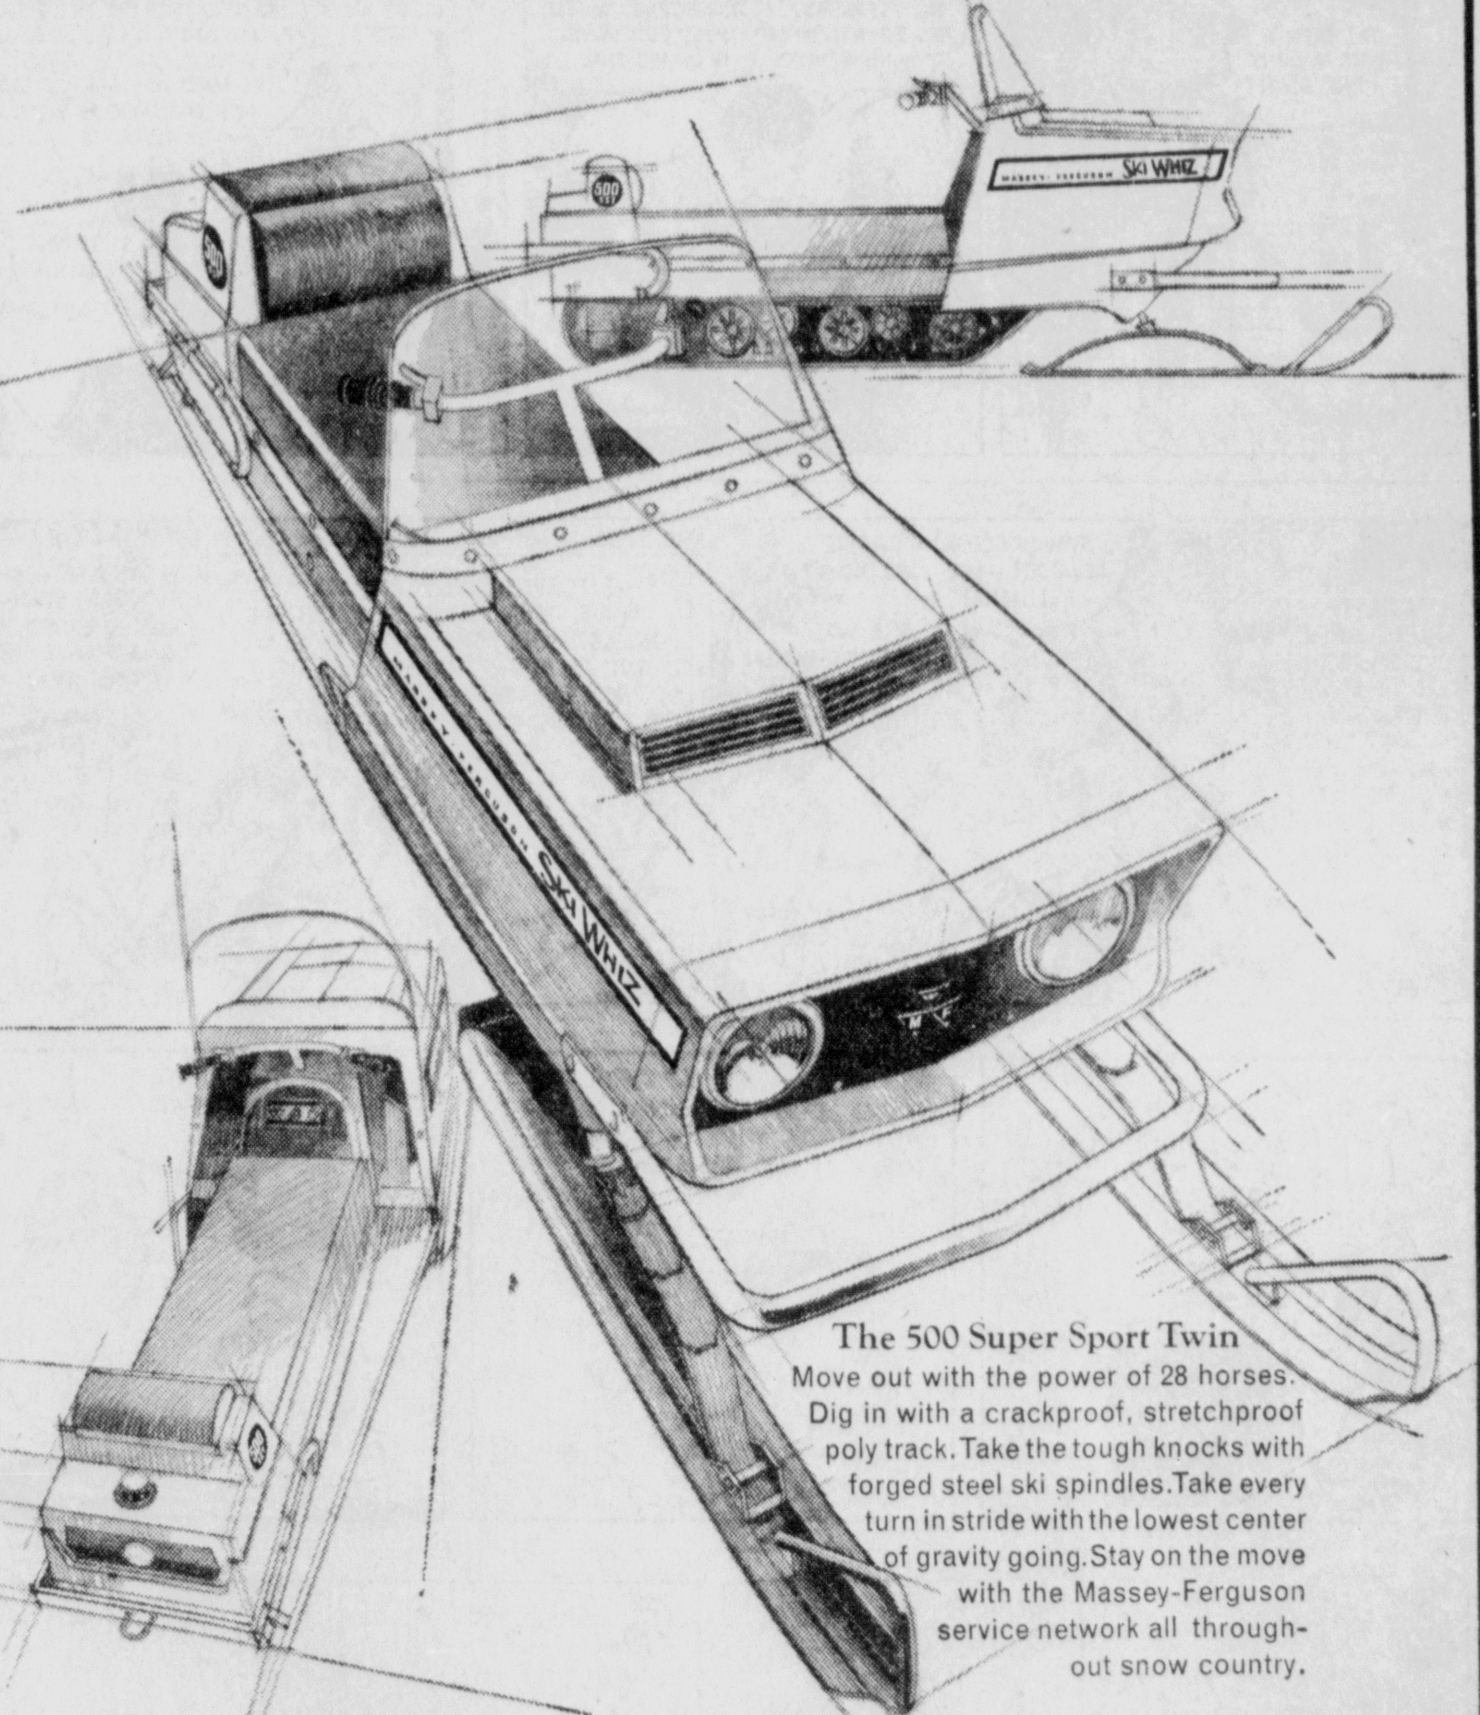

He was the starter for the Los Angeles Rams in 1964 and 1965 until he injured a knee and Roman Gabriel took over. Munson never got his job back and was traded to the Lions before the start of the 1968 season.

Baseball's Trading Season Begun; Cards Trade Pinson

By The Associated Press

Vada Pinson was traded to the Cleveland Indians by the St. Louis Cardinals today in the first deal of the major league inter-league trading season.

The sound of the clock striking midnight had barely faded away than Bing Devine, general manager of the Cardinals, announced the trade of the two outfielders.

Devine said the 26-year-old Cardinal, who hit .257 for Cleveland, will play center field for the Cards. The 31-year-old Pinson, who had traded to St. Louis by Cincinnati after the 1968 season, hit .255 for the Cards, who slumped badly the past season after winning the National League flag two consecutive years.

The midnight hour meant the start of 3½ weeks of activity for the major league club executives, a span of time when they hoped they might acquire that player needed to transform a contender into a winner for 1970.

From now until Midnight Dec. 15, the clubs can make trades with teams in the other league without the usual requirement of obtaining waivers.

There are a couple of reasons why this is so important to baseball. For one, most teams prefer to deal with counterparts in the other league because they are then assured that the castoff won't come back to haunt them during the regular season.

Most of the trading is expected to take place at the major and minor league meetings in Florida during the first week of December, but there may be a flurry of activity before then.

Pinson, the ex-Cincinnati outfielder, was hampered with a hairline fracture of the small bone in his right foot last season. Cardinal gives the Cards a defensive boost. He's more than an adequate center fielder — something the Cards need in spacious Busch Stadium.

The Indians also are reportedly interested in trading Tony Horton to clear the way for Ken Harrelson to handle first base.

The Cards already have sent relief pitcher Joe Hoerner, catcher Tim McCarver and outfielder Curt Flood to Philadelphia for Richie Allen, infielder Cookie Rojas and pitcher Jerry Johnson. They traded catcher Dave Ricketts and pitcher Dave Giusti to Pittsburgh for outfielder Carl Taylor and sent pitcher Ray Washburn to the Reds for pitcher George Culver.

The Cards are said to consider third baseman Mike Shannon and shortstop Dai Maxvill among other players who could go.

The New York Mets are expected to stick pretty much with the amazing crew that gave them the world championship, although they consider second and third base as trouble spots.

One of the Mets' glaring weaknesses is third base, where they've tried 41 different players in eight years. The Mets reportedly would like either Shannon or Joe Foy of Kansas City to fill that gap.

The New York Yankees, who are putting the accent on youth, reportedly are interested in shedding Joe Pepitone, although his marketability has dropped with his decreased home run production. Pitcher Al Downing and catcher Jake Gibbs also may go.

Now that Houston has rookie John Mayberry as a top candidate at first base, the Astros could put Blefary back on the trading block.

Atlanta's top trading bait probably includes pitcher Milt Pappas, who has made no secret that he's not happy with the Braves, and outfielder Felipe Alou.

Washington is said to be interested in trading third baseman Ken McMullen, relief pitcher Darold Knowles and first baseman Mike Epstein, while Boston reportedly would be receptive to a deal involving pitcher Jim Lonborg, the hero of the 1967 pennant team.

Because Manny Sanguillen has taken over as Pittsburgh's No. 1 catcher, Jerry May is reportedly available. The Pirates have expressed interest in Oakland infielder Ted Kubiak.

The California Angels reportedly are working on a trade with Cincinnati involving Angel Pitchers Jim McGlothlin, Vern Geisbert and Pedro Borbon for outfielder Alex Johnson, Pitcher Mel Queen and infielder Chico Ruiz.

HE SHAVES ALONE

DENVER (AP)—Bobby Howfield, Denver Bronco place-kicker from Bushey, England, always shaves about 10 minutes before kickoff on game days.

Is it a superstition or an English custom?

"Hardly," replied Howfield. "It's simply that after the game everyone wants to get at the lavatory. Before the game I have it all to myself."

Sports Announcer Says Rose Bowl Choice Made

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit sportscaster said Thursday night that Michigan already has been selected to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl. His report was immediately denied by the first Big Ten athletic directors contacted.

Bob Reynolds, sports director of radio station WJR, said the action was "taken the first of the week."

Reynolds was the first to break the story of Vince Lombardi leaving as general manager of the Green Bay Packers to coach the Washington Redskins in a National Football League switch.

The sportscaster said "It would take a debacle of gigantic proportions Saturday to make any change at this late date."

He also said his information would be vigorously denied by the league office.

Contacted at Columbus, Ohio State University athletic director Richard C. Larkins said of Reynolds' report, "It's not true. It's impossible."

He said the Rose Bowl representative will be decided at a meeting of Big Ten athletic directors at 9 p.m. Saturday in the league office in Chicago.

J. W. (Bill) Orwig, athletic director at Indiana University, said Reynolds' report was "completely untrue." He said the athletic directors met in Chicago Wednesday, but that no Rose Bowl candidate was discussed.

Michigan State University Athletic Director Biggie Munn said "It's news to me."

Will Perry, sports information director at Michigan, said Reynolds' statement could be a "safe guess." He said probably only a very lop-sided loss to Ohio State could upset Michigan's Rose Bowl hopes.

Purdue athletic director Guy J. Mackey said Reynolds' report was "silly."

In Chicago, Big Ten commissioner William Reed said athletic directors have been meeting with him once a month since August mainly for discussion of financial problems and not even a pulse-taking on the Rose Bowl came up in Wednesday's meeting.

Marsh Ryman, athletic director at Minnesota, said "This is absolutely fictitious and a fabrication. I want the public to know it is an affront to the integrity of conference athletic directors."

Reynolds, who did not disclose his sources, said he was sure of his inside information on the Rose Bowl as he was about the Lombardi switch.

Lions Favored To Nip Packers

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Gabriel's bruised knee and the news that Earl Morrall will start for Baltimore instead of John Unitas add a new dimension to the tough job of trying to pick this week's pro football winners.

The big names of the day are Dallas at Los Angeles in the National Football League, possibly a preview of the Jan. 4 title game, and Oakland at Kansas City for the lead in the Western Division of the American Football League.

We look for wins by the favored Rams and Chiefs and for upsets by the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions.

NFL

Los Angeles 27, Dallas 20—Gabriel is due to start despite the bruised knee as Rams aim for 10th straight. Eddie Meador saved the day last week in Philadelphia where Eagles gave Rams fits before losing 23-17. It's tough to run on the Cowboys but Gabriel should find holes in pass coverage. Rams will pressure Craig Morton more than Cowboys will bother Gabriel.

Minnesota 31, Pittsburgh 10—Only problem for Vikings is a temptation to look ahead to Thursday's date with Detroit. Steelers must be seething after losing eight in a row but they don't have the guns to shoot down the flying Vikings, unless they beat themselves.

Cleveland 41, New York 28—First of two between these old rivals with Browns winning eight of the last nine. Leroy Kelly should ramble through Giant line despite new get tough line by Coach Alex Webster. Look for both Fran Tarkenton and Bill Nelsen to get hot.

Detroit 13, Green Bay 10—Good spot for an upset with Lions still hoping Vikings will stumble. Packers, three back with five to go, were all but eliminated last week. A bitter blood bath with Packers favored on strength of 28-17 win Oct. 12 in which Bill Munson suffered fractured right wrist. Defense should do it for Detroit.

Washington 24, Atlanta 21—A real toughie. Will Redskins be down after defeat by Dallas? Falcons coming off 48-point game against Bears just might be able to outscore Sonny Jurgensen by running that Washington line. We're staying with Sonny.

Chicago 17, Baltimore 14—Sticking our chin out here. Counting on Bears' rugged defense to turn off Colts and Gale Sayers to score enough for tight win in low point game.

San Francisco 28, New Orleans 23—Two of last week's winners who made it in the closing minutes. If John Brodie can be consistent for another week he should take 49ers in for enough to offset Tom Dempsey's field goals.

St. Louis 31, Philadelphia 24—Won't be surprised at anything in this one. Cards were shut out by Lions after scoring 83 points in two previous starts. Eagle gave Rams a tough rumble. Figure St. Louis offense to outscore Eagles in a wild, no-defense thriller.

AFL

Kansas City 24, Oakland 21—Can't shake the memory of that 41-6 win by Raiders in 1968 championship game after they split at home. This first of two (second game Dec. 13) and home field edge goes to Kansas City in one of the better games of the season. Lenny Dawson has Otis Taylor back to help and those pony backs may be able to run on Raiders. Daryle Lamonica will get the big rush.

New York 27, Cincinnati 21—Jets were embarrassed by Chiefs and anxious to take it out on somebody. Wrong day for Greg Cook and his playmates to visit Shea. Jets won earlier, 21-7.

Houston 20, Miami 14—Houston, second in East, still has a long shot chance of catching Jets or at least getting in playoffs. Dolphins in tough shape without Bob Griese. Roy Geralsda kicked five field in Sept. 28 game, won by Oilers 22-10.

San Diego 17, Denver 14—And what difference does it make? Both clubs eliminated from chance at first and Floyd Little still only a possible for Broncos. Chargers were in there all the way with Oakland last week so rate the call at home.

Boston 21, Buffalo 20—Flip a coin or take a blind stab. Pats being at home helps but Bills won first game 23-16. After losing first seven, Pats have won two of three. Bills broke four-game losing streak by bombing Miami last week.

City Of Petoskey
Santa May Come
Down From Sky

PETOSKEY (AP) — Watch the sky, kiddies. Santa Claus may come crashing out of the blue Saturday. Then, again, he may not.

The Petoskey Regional Chamber of Commerce is making its second effort to have the man in red zoom out of an airplane and float into town on a parachute.

Here's the plan:

A low flying airplane swoops over Petoskey High School and a red-suited sport parachutist jumps out.

He lands behind the high school and goes inside.

Then a professional Santa comes hobnobbing out the front door and hands out 3,000 candy canes to a cheering throng of youngsters.

Will it work?

Last year the sky diver landed a mile off target.

"The children didn't notice," shrugged Merle Lutz, chamber of commerce manager, "and besides, maybe it will work this year."

Funeral Set

ST. CLAIR (AP) — Funeral services for the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Lromenaker will be held Monday at 11 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church, which he served as pastor from 1917 to 1959.

Msgr. Lromenaker, 95, died at a Port Huron hospital Wednesday night. He entered the hospital two days earlier, after suffering an apparent stroke.

Msgr. Lromenaker had been pastor emeritus at St. Mary's since his retirement in 1959. He was ordained in Detroit in 1902 and was named a monsignor by Pope Pius XII in 1952.

Area Exploring Direction Of Vocational Education

By JEAN WORTH
Of Panax Newspapers

Michigan has decided that it needs more vocational-technical schooling to train people for jobs and it is now in the process of providing it at the local level.

In Delta, Schoolcraft and Menominee counties—at the suggestion of Robert Pangman, consultant for area programs, Michigan Department of Education, and request of the Escanaba Area School District—the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate District is conducting a study of the area's need for vocational education and how it might be best provided.

Joseph Hampton, former Adams Township, Houghton County school superintendent and former intermediate district superintendent at Baraga, is doing the study and has been designated as "vocational education implementer" by the State Department of Education.

Millage Needed?

"At the present time," said Walter J. McClintock, superintendent of the Intermediate District, "the district has nothing to do with vocational education, (its chief service is in the field of special education to handicapped children) but the study probably will result in a plan or proposal for millage (for a vocational education program)."

Powers-Spalding Attend Workshop

A workshop for personnel responsible for the management of standardized testing programs in local school districts was held Tuesday, Nov. 11 in the Bay View Inn in Petoskey, Mich. Edward Wiecek, principal, and Allen Erickson, guidance counselor, of the Powers-Spalding High School were in attendance.

Warren Lutzman, superintendent, Petoskey Public School, gave the welcome address. A review of principles of testing program construction took place at the general session. Group sessions explored and discussed the problems of similar sized districts, such as some common problems within a district and how to make changes.

In the afternoon small group discussions focused on specific problem areas: namely, reporting scores to teachers and parents, building a K-12 program and test selection.

The workshop was sponsored by the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services and the Oakland Schools in cooperation with the University Extension Service. The workshop staff were: Joseph Messana, Ed. D., Oakland Schools; Richard Watson, Ph. D., Bureau of School Services and Robert Williams, Ph. D., Oakland Schools.

Expect Objective Study

"This (Intermediate District) study should determine how vocational education should be provided and if it should include that the college should do more in this field we would be glad to consider it," said Dr. Rinehart. "We expect a good, objective study."

"The college is committed not to go back to the public for more millage; having been generously funded by the county for our campus development program. We wouldn't oppose extra millage for vocational education, but if there should be a proposal for vocational education buildings, we think that the public might bring up a question about duplication. They might ask: 'Didn't we vote vocational education buildings for the college?'"

"The first building on our new college campus is for vocational education and we are going to have additional vocational education facilities as the campus is developed."

College Has Program

Bay College is operating classes for vocational training of high school students from the area where facilities are lacking in their own schools. Manistique sends high school students to the college. So do Bark River and Rapid River. Holy Name High School has sent Vo-Ed students to Bay College and Powers-Spalding High School will start sending them in the spring.

The Michigan State Plan for Higher Education states: "In the vocational-technical field, the community college and secondary area vocational school should not be placed in direct competition with each other; their programs should complement each other."

"For areas where community colleges do not exist, public four-year colleges and universities may continue to provide such services . . . ."

"At the secondary level, area vocational centers are being encouraged in those areas of the state where individual high schools cannot afford some of the occupational courses that their students need. If such courses are to be made available, they must be offered cooperatively at centers located within commuting distance of the cooperating high schools."

"Secondary area vocational centers may be provided by a well-equipped high school serving all participating high schools; by a separate facility constructed and operated for the benefit of all the high schools; or a community college in the area may serve as the vocational education center for the high schools by providing the secondary courses wanted or by making its facilities available to the high schools for such purposes."

Chrysler Corp. Lays Off 17,800

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. said it will lay off 17,800 hourly workers for the four scheduled working days next week. It was the first such cut-back by any of the automobile manufacturers since the start of the 1970 model production.

The move was apparently done to reduce stocks of unsold cars.

The shutdowns will be at two plants in the Detroit area and at facilities in St. Louis and Newark, Del.

In addition, Chrysler said its three other U.S. assembly plants would be closed Friday, the day after Thanksgiving. The plants are in Detroit, Belvidere, Ill., and Los Angeles.

A spokesman for the auto manufacturer said all eligible employees would still get time-and-a-half pay for the Thanksgiving holiday, even if they are laid off.

Chrysler's sales for 1970 cars total about 172,000 units, compared with 174,000 at the same time last year. However, its assembly lines have been geared up for higher retail deliveries.

Grant Approved

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has announced approval of a federal anti-poverty grant of $286,695 for the Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity. The grant includes $23,002 for 16 community planning consultants, $170,722 for neighborhood services programs, $22,625 for community organizations and $31,102 for job development programs.

Government Shows Off New Income Tax Form

The 77 million people expected to file federal income tax returns for 1969 will all use the new style 1040 form, unveiled today by the Internal Revenue Service.

The new tax form has been designed so that, regardless of financial circumstances, it can be used by taxpayers in any bracket.

Card Form 1040A—the old short form, filed by 18 million taxpayers last year—has been eliminated. However, the new form will enable over 30 million taxpayers to file by using only one side of a single page, the IRS said. An additional 20 million taxpayers will need no more than one-page basic form plus one additional page.

Taxpayers with special tax situations need only add to the basic form additional pages or schedules, to meet their needs. Itemized deductions, business income and expense, and other add-or-subtract items will be reported on separate pages.

Card Obsolete

The IRS said the card Form 1040A was becoming obsolete because of rising income levels in recent years and increased complexity in the financial status of taxpayers. This resulted in a decrease in the percentage of taxpayers using the card form.

Introduced in 1954, the 1040A was designed as a simplified form to help the lower-income wage earner. However, taxpayers using it could not take advantage of certain tax credits or exclusions and could not itemize their deductions.

The simplicity of the old 1040A has been built into the new form, the IRS said. The one-page basic 1040 is very much like the front and the back of the discontinued card form.

The new 1040 enables all taxpayers to tailor their returns to their particular circumstances. Also the "add-a-page" feature provided by the new form has made it possible to provide more room for itemizing deductions and listing income sources.

Research Conducted

The IRS said extensive research was conducted before the new form was adopted. This also included informal tests with taxpayers and discussions with legal and accounting groups.

Of the tax form packages being sent to taxpayers this year, 60 million will be printed in color, the IRS said. The red and blue format, first introduced last year, is intended to direct attention to areas of the return where errors are mostly commonly made.

Over-the-counter copies of Form 1040 and the complex packages of tax returns and schedules for some taxpayers will continue to be printed in black ink.

With the exception of some four million farmers and fishermen, taxpayers should receive their individual income tax forms and instructions by mail the first week in January. Farmers and fishermen, who have earlier filing deadlines than other taxpayers, should receive their tax packages early in December.

The mammoth annual printing job of tax forms takes about eight weeks to complete and uses nearly 20 million pounds of paper.

CAP Week Set

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has proclaimed the week of Dec. 1 as Civil Air Patrol Week in Michigan, marking the 28th anniversary of the founding of the patrol.
